Mr. James Boyle until recently was Consul at Liverpool, expects to remain in England about twelve months. The Ambassador, Mr. Cheate, will protably return to America in the latter part of May. I understand Mr. Choāte did not expect to sail until summer, when the London season is practically over.

Mr. Whitelaw Reid, the new Ambassador, who naturally expected to sasume his duties soon after his appointment, courteously agreed to postpone his arrival in London for several weeks.

It was Mrs. Ogden Goelet's original intention on her arrival in England to go to Paris after a short stay in London, but she was persuaded by her daughter, the Duchess of Roxburghe and went to Floors Castle for a short visit, returning to Claridges yesterday.

Accompanying Mrs. Goelet is Lady Herbert, the widow of Sir Michael Herbert, and as the dowager Duchess of Roxburghe has just returned from Riviera there has been quite a foregathering with the Duke and Duchess of Roxburghe at the historic seat.

Mrs. John Jacob Astor is returning to London about the middle of next month and will then occupy her new house in Portland place.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Rossevelt have arrived after a six weeks' tour in France.

Mr. Ogden Mills and Mr. Charles D. Wetmore, who arrived the other day from New York are at Claridges.

The Hippodrome, or all the year around circus, that has just been opened in New York, is one of the most unique playhouses in the world. It is the largest in point of size; it will seat more than 5,000 people; it cost $1,500,000; it is absolutely fireproof; it has a stage that can be raised and lowered fourteen feet.
